A superhighway of cellular communication

THE GLYCOCALYX

The glycan-rich coat at the cell surface.

Many cell-surface glycans help cells recognize and interact with one another.

Immune cells exchange information to coordinate an appropriate response.

Ambrotose® Complex powder provides nutritional support for cellular communication and immune function.*

Bring the science home

Landen Fredrick

President & Chief Executive Officer

“I want the idea to become as familiar as the salt on the family table.”

Think multivitamin. Think multiglycans.

Make the science understandable so people can make informed choices.

Familiarity is the comparison. It does not imply nutritional equivalence or universal suitability.

A PERSONAL INVITATION

Someone shared an opportunity with you

Now you can share that opportunity with someone else.

Care begins with us and reaches further

The people we love give us a reason to care.
That care can reach children we may never meet.

THE M5M FOUNDATION

Nourishment and possibility

Every child is someone's whole world. Our hopes for the people we love can inspire care for children we may never meet.

M5M means Mission 5 Million. PhytoBlend is a nutritional supplement, not a complete meal. Official Mission 5 Million photograph: San Silvestre, Ecuador, courtesy of Mannatech.

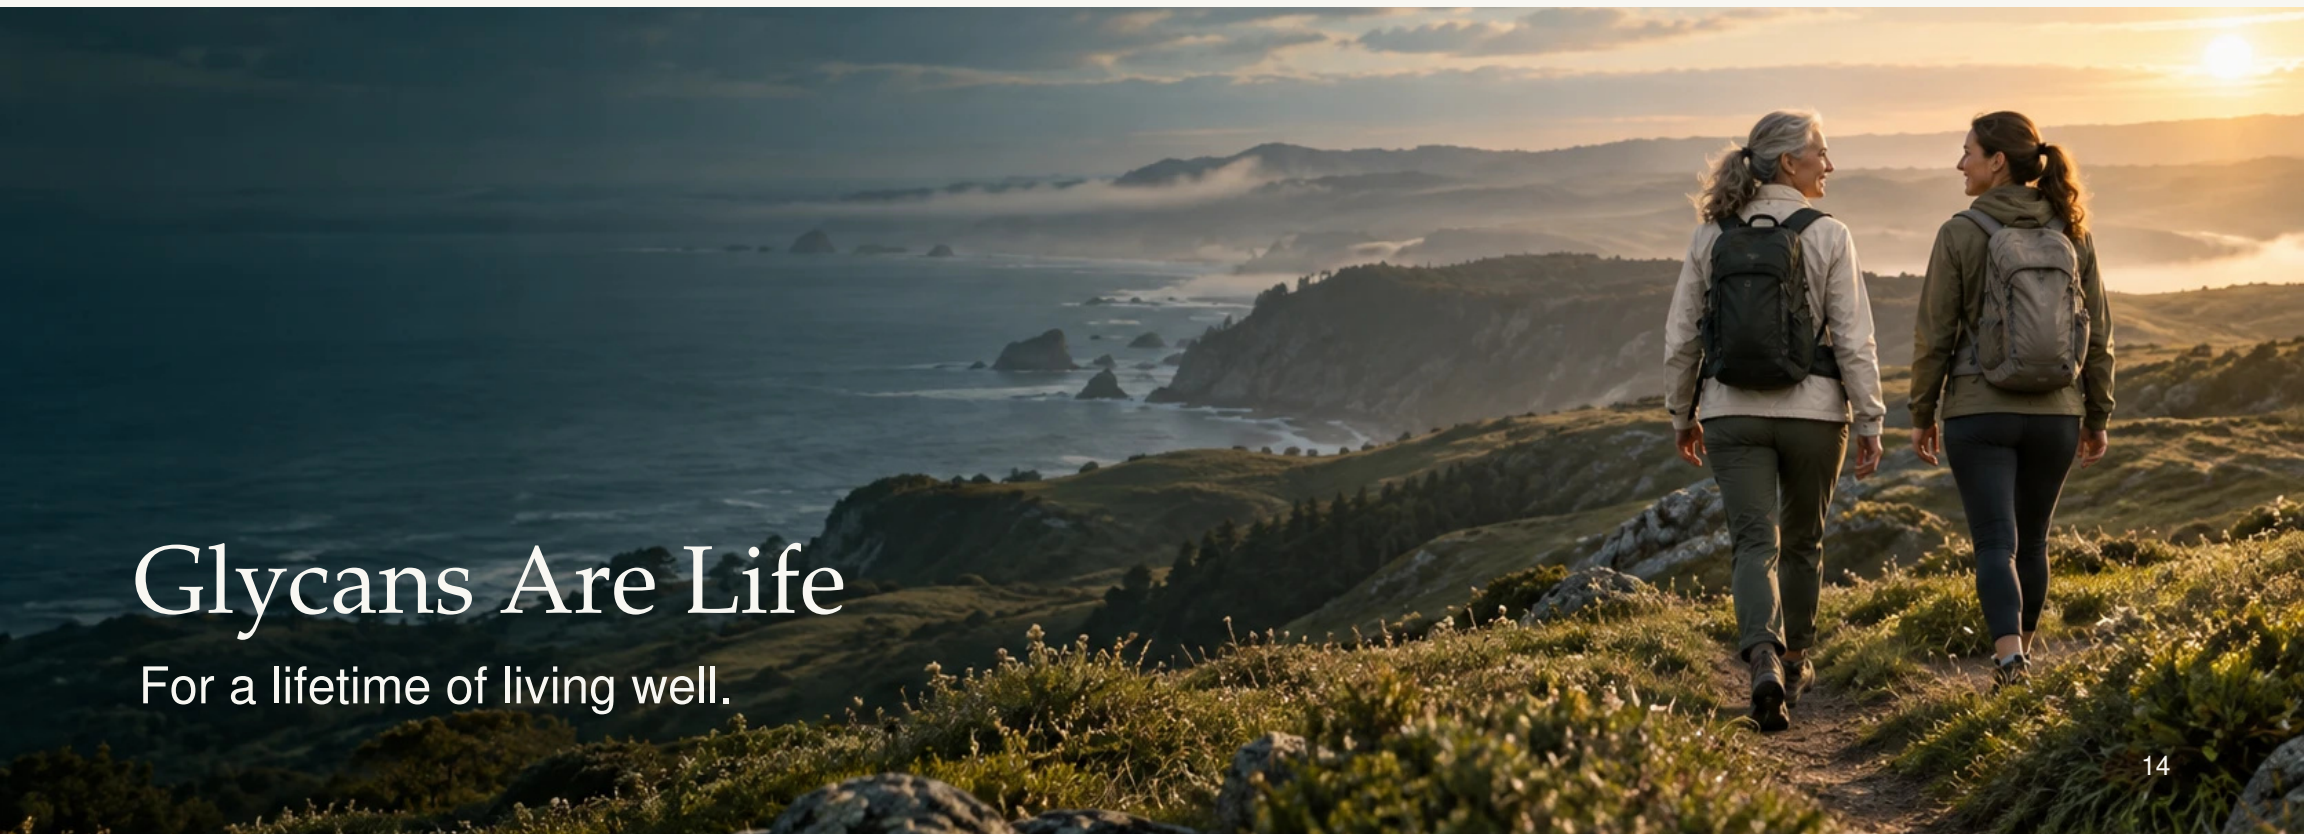

Through the M5M Foundation, nutrition support reaches children facing food insecurity. PhytoBlend™ adds vitamins, minerals and phytonutrients to food.

*Our purchases help support this work.
Our care reaches further.*

Who will you share this with?

Think of the person who came to mind. Ask what living well means to them.

A meaningful conversation begins with listening.

A photograph of two hikers, an older woman and a younger woman, walking away from the camera on a dirt trail. They are both wearing backpacks and looking out over a vast landscape. The landscape features a coastline with waves crashing against rocks, a forested hillside, and distant mountains under a sunset sky with soft, golden light. The hikers are in the foreground, walking on a path that leads into the distance.

Glycans Are Life

For a lifetime of living well.
